COURT THEATRE!

COURT THEATRE!

The Management is indeed appreciative of the existant good feeling and confidence the faculty and students of Central High have in this theatre, and you are assured that everything will be done that such confidence shall not be misplaced.

It is logically the Central High Theatre, for there is none other nearer to the school.

You are welcome each afternoon after school session at the nominal admittance fee of 15c for orchestra and 10c for balcony. Nowhere can you find quality of entertainment, refined surroundings, cleanliness and ventilation of such good standard that you enjoy in your school for such a nominal admission.

The Court Theatre changes its program four times each week, each program diversified, entertaining and clean.

The finest, most costly and most perfect sound producing equipment is used—Western Electric.

Acoustical and Sound Producing experts who have travelled in their special capacity well over the state, have held out the Court Theatre as the finest example in the state for acoustics and sound production.

Parents may rest easy while their children are at the Court, because of exacting conduct required of all the employees and all patrons, and because there is no other theatre in Newark where the exits are on two streets.

It is fireproof, and is allotted the best insurance rating of any theatre. What is safe for the Insurance Companies, should be safe for you.

EXODUS

Every three months the graduating class of Central High School unanimously resolves to commit more gracefully and more nonchalantly the divers necessary steps that will leave an imprint for posterity to follow. We, the class of Feb. '31, were no different, and while we did have a dance and wept over our PIVOT very forcibly, and worry our faculty advisers to the nth degree of distraction, just as all our predecessors did, we emerge as shining and smiling on Graduation Night as everyone else has succeeded in doing.

The stellar role played by advisers who somehow managed to pull the strings in the right direction when we were bent on other roads has undoubtedly been proved to all of us. Those who worked hard though sometimes blindly undoubtedly realize that a bit of chaos and lots of effort will inevitably result in cosmos.

And the only message we can leave to future classes is as true as it is prosaic: never lose sight of the diploma when things are dark.

—E. R. S.

TO THOSE WE LEAVE BEHIND US

It is indeed a queer twisting of proverbial wisdom that opportunity should exist for everyone without exception. Central High School, a pioneer among pioneers, the model of the all-year school, has given us something that we could have obtained in no other school. The smooth routine of the usual high school with the two-month interruption for vacationing would never have instilled in us what we now possess—the ability to work on our own feet and to realize that what we refuse to accomplish will be laid at our own doors and that what we want is ours for the doing.

The thrill of accomplishment and the pride of participation in school affairs, whether scholastic, athletic or "extra-curricula" is something that every Centralite experiences before he graduates and we point with the wisdom of seniors to the strength obtained in doing things for someone and the added heights reached in doing things for Central.

—E. R. S.

From Principal to Parent

January 14, 1931.

Dear Parents:

There is in us a power to stand for something. Have your children identify themselves with that for which they stand. Do not let them wait for something to turn up to indicate what they stand for. If either you or they are uncertain, seek guidance from those who know how to reveal our possibilities. Have a healthy minded objectiveness. Bear in mind that at no time in the history of the world has there been a better chance to do something certain than in this century of opportunity and privilege. Cultivate personalities so that we may be better people and more conscious of our God-given gifts.

Sincerely yours,

William Weiner

Principal.

CLASS HISTORY

This chronicle is dedicated to the ages.

Three long years ago, we, the Seniors of the class of February 1931, started our turbulent career, as verdant a group of freshmen as were ever gathered from the length and breadth of Newark. There we were at the bottom of the ladder, overwhelmed by the frightful perplexities and complications of being Freshmen in high school, and feeling like the most insignificant cog in the high school machinery.

Then came the Sophomore year. How important we felt! Our chests expanded and we strutted about in lordly fashion; by our bearing you could tell that we were Sophomores, but you couldn't tell us very much. We became enlightened as to the happenings about school, and enthralled by the glamour of it all, we resolved to make our mark.

In May, 1929, we began our Junior year and what happy, frivolous yet sincere Juniors we were. Some of us had already gained prominence on the athletic field; some had become connected with the various school papers; some had joined the school organizations, and the rest had just settled down to excel in scholastics. We were all imbued with that intangible quality so vital to a school, "School Spirit."

Finally, our 4C term rolled around and we gazed about bewilderedly and found ourselves Seniors! We now realized the immensities of our duties. We became heirs to the Senior rehearsals and to the dignity meet in all Seniors. Mr. Miller was appointed our faculty adviser, and with his kindly hand at the tiller of "our ship of state," we held our organization meetings.

Days are flying; graduation is near; we hurry and scurry in our last minute rush; we shed bitter tears and wish we could stay in dear Central High; yet we are glad to be standing on the threshold of a new world of wonderful achievement and wonderful adventure. Our chapter in Central High School is completed; it will be no more than a pleasant memory, but we go now to create a new epic in the history of the world. For three years we have been taught the secret of success, therefore, as the famous poet Longfellow writes:

"Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing
Learn to labor and to wait."

—Dora Pollock

THE HONORARY SOCIETY OF LUNCH ROOM LITES

Have you ever been in the midst of the hubbub and confusion of Central during the lunch periods? It is truly an extraordinary spectacle which greets one's optics. This famous rendezvous, commonly called the lunch-room, seems to be quite popular with our seniors.

Among the lobbyists who eat, sleep, and cut (?) here, are seen—from left to right—Fritzie Posner, perpetually conversing with a grid hero; Frankie Krol, eating his spinach as a diligent athlete should; and Irene Herr twittering with the dimpled Eleanor Kotches and Lillian Fastow and a few assistant managers. Edythe Steinberg drops in occasionally to keep us informed on the latest in Emily Post for table manners. Aaron Wissotsky conducts informal meetings at the fifth table over and Stanley Poznanski passes his brilliant orbs lightly over everyone. He usually has a place of honor but you never hear a word out of him! (Editor's note—The Ideal Guest)

Since his election Hal Weinberg has decided it befitting his position to appear in the picture and females are never far from any president. Jane Mandy, our Secretary, sees to it that her superior officer is never lonely. Abe Alexander is the receptacle of all ancient and honorable wise cracks and he doesn't keep them covered. Harry Koffler is there frequently and often. The Josephowitz Boys never miss a thing. Sylvia Mezibov, the attractive radio crooner in person, and Stella Pryll, who by this time should look like a lunch room fixture, hang around too.

Among those present at the teacher's table are Mr. Conovitz, Miss O'Connor, Mr. Miller, Mr. Schneider, Mr. Rich, Mr. Rentz, Miss Mohair and Dr. Mones.

Add to this freshmen, visitors, P. G.'s and real alumni, other alumni, who do not claim to be either post graduates or the real thing, and who hang around because they have nothing else to do, and you complete the roll call.

WHAT SHALL HE DO?

With a nervous, jerky step, he entered the portals of the ancient dignified building. As he stepped into the corridor, a subdued murmur came to his ears, fulfilling the idea he had entertained, of the quiet peacefulness of the institution. He arose from his seat and as he had half an hour more to wait, began to wander aimlessly about. He ascended one flight of stairs, and the drowsy hum soothed and quieted his jumpy nerves and acted as a balm on his wrought-up spirit.

Having left the third flight of stairs behind him he peered into a glass window, and saw a sight warranted to startle the most staid person.

And yet not a sound above a low murmur could be heard.

With his hair slowly rising on his head, he wiped the perspiration from his brow and summoning up all his courage he pulled at a handle; then—his hair stood straight up and he fell over backward down the stairs, with a pandemonium of sound, a babel of shrieking voices, tumultuous and tempestuous, following him in his somewhat uneven course down the steps. Alighting on the bottom stair he arose and fled, never again to be heard of or seen; he had had one sight of Central's lunchroom going at full blast.

HOW SAD

He bent closer and closer and gazed at the tiny white face so near his own. A smile hovered 'round the ruby lips on the delicate face; the eyes were as blue and serene as a calm lake in summer; the neck as white as that of a swan.

Suddenly a transformation occurred—the red lips before so lovely, now opened wide, emitting horrible sounds. The eyes that before were so peaceful became full of tears like an ocean during a storm.

He moved away—horrified. What had he done that had made her angry? He started to slink away when a voice—commanding—masculine—sonorous—stopped him—"Jimmy—go away from the baby's room!"—

TWILIGHT SCENE

Ah! the boldness of a barren tree
Stretching naked arms to God;
Crying out for renaissance
Of all that breathes above the sod:

"Give me just the moonbeams, Lord!
Give the moonbeams all to me!
And I shall keep them clean and proud
And I shall keep them very free.

"Give me just two stars, O Lord!
Of all the host you have on high;
Two stars to twinkle cold and proud
When the wind is wont to scold and sigh."

Ah! the boldness of a barren tree
Stretching naked arms to God;
Crying out for renaissance
Of all that breathes above the sod:

"I have not asked Thee very much
Of all the gifts Thou hast to give;
And I would ask but one thing more
So that I find it well to live.

"Give me just Thy blessing, Lord,
To deck me out in fine array,
And I shall win my lover, Earth,
Before this night has passed away."

(Ah, the boldness of a barren tree
Stretching naked arms to God . . .)

Edythe R. Steinberg

I WONDER

Will my sun
As it touches the western rim of my horizon
Set
With flashes of gold and streams of fire;—
As when the day is old;
When the day dies;
When the sun sets;
In the occident;
And will the fleshless rider robed in white
Come riding on his lean black horse
And help me climb up behind him
And take me away.
Amid the glowing light
Of my setting sun
As it goes down?

Matteo Melito.

SNOW

As soft
As muffled steps
Of falling night
The snow
And souls of man
Come down . . . .
The snow will melt
Away?

Matteo Melito.

ATMOSPHERE

It rained in my garden
Last night at dusk.
And every green thing
Swelled forth in sympathy with the sorrow of Heaven.
A white-flowered bush wept petal tears,
And a bird dropped his silver songs to the ground
One by one.

—Edythe R. Steinberg

FAREWELL!

How hard it is to leave these dear old halls,
Where we have found so much of joy and pain,
How hard to leave the friendships dearly prized;
To make new ones we hope we may retain.

For some few years we've toiled with open minds,
Lest Wisdom might our fitful grasp deny;
We've helped to make endure our High School's name
And others now shall bear the torch on high.

The future calls with opportunity,
That all may join the ranks of Youth and life;
We leave like moth from chrysalis, our school,
That has prepared us for a greater strife.

Yet ere we part, a silent tear is shed,
Which bears our wishes upward to the sun—
May all who've helped us to prepare ourselves,
Be proud of us the Class of Thirty-One.

—Dora Pollock

AMBITION

A misty skyline
From a school window
On a hot, hot day . . .
To be on top
Of the tallest building
Reaching, reaching
To touch the clouds.
Why dream . . .
Just now it is to study
So that soon
We can be poised
On the top. Touching, yes
Reaching and touching
The clouds.

—Mitzi Sazer

WITNESSING YOUR FIRST COMMENCEMENT

It was the first time but I am glad it was. Strange isn't it how a first graduation always leaves one feeling cold and somewhat dazed. The lights, glamour, hubbub, some participants laughing, others on the verge of tears. Everyone kissing everyone else. The dazzling white of the girls' gowns—promenading before the envying eyes of their inferiors for the time being. Mr. Miller rushing back and forth pausing just long enough to nod to acquaintances—the mob gathering about the doors—Service Club members, boys and girls, attempting to restrain them but in vain. Mr. Conovitz about the doors pushing back would-be gate-crashers. But the doors are still busily swinging back and forth. Graduates are still entering and in the nick of time. The doors are locked. The first strains of the organ inform us the commencement has started. All eyes are on the graduates as they begin.

In thirty minutes it is over. A horde rushes to the door. The graduates are leaving in a way unknown, but see, they are discovered and are immediately surrounded. Congratulations, kissing, "Good Lucks!" are heard. The office is filled with impelling perfume from flowers. One passes from the stifling hallway on to the piazza for a breath of relief. Proud parents with tearfilled eyes out there fondly caressing their children. Proud parents who sacrificed most everything that their offspring might be where they are tonight.

In fifteen minutes the hallways, piazza, even the sidewalk downstairs are cleared of any sign of life. All is still.

The commencement is over.

(Every Knock is a Boost)

Grinding away to his heart's content,
Harry Abramowitz on books seems bent.

Abe Alexander is a wise-cracking blond,
Of missing the limelight he really is fond.

Mary Anderson's our fav'rite among the girls,
Because she has such golden curls.

Ruth Anderson has a tongue so stern,
She has made many a Central cheek burn.

Stella Argand takes a sturdy stand,
To lead with baton in a mighty hand.

Doris Arnold is almost a blond,
Of masculine attire she is really quite fond.

Mary Bain is a rapid speaker,
And after knowledge one ardent seeker.

Sal Baron's a boy who rates ace high—
The team has certainly seen him try.

Phil Berman must really have no nerve,
Why can't someone shake his reserve?

Ben Bierman could write on chem. a whole tome—
And Benny has also written a pome.

There's Dorothy Black, so sweet and demure—
Tell us to what do you owe your lure?

Gertrude Black has such a sweet face,
A kind word and smile add much to her grace.

Rose Blum wears glasses and gabs a lot,
But when you say "smiling" she's right on the spot.

Gertrude Bobrow's sunny smile,
Adds lots of cheer for all the while.

Umberto Botticelli has one queer name,
But his cartoons have already brought him fame.

Dorothy Brown may someday awake,—
But what she needs is one good shake!

Frank Burkhardt at lessons sure is a lark,
We'll bet he could study them all in the dark.

Agnes Burrows is one sweet child,
If she ever failed it would drive her wild.

Sophie Cahn will ne'er be a bard,
But she's certainly there when you have to work hard.

Carmelina Cappetta in shorthand's a wow,
And isn't she pretty? We'll say! And how!

Lillian Chesner, a nice little blond,
Says that of dancing she really is fond.

With a round red face, looking quite harassed,
Ben Cohen, are you always embarrassed?

Louis Cohen is a handsome fellow,
And you will never hear him bellow.

Norman Cogliati surely needs a rest,
In Central he has seldom flunked a test.

Mario Costanzo is one polite scout,
He's given us long enough to find it all out.

Ida Dellapi is quiet and short,
But we really think that she's a good sport.

Patrick DeVincenzo can take any quiz,
In doing most problems he "sure is a whiz."

Belle Dreskin may not know school stuff,
But she dimples and looks nice—don't you think that's enough?

THE PIVOT

Irving Eilenberg works in the dark,
When it comes to conducting some little lark.

Jean Epstein in dialect sure is a wow,
But shy from her po'try (Ed's. note—and how!)

Selma Farber follows the fads,
But you should see her go after ads.

Lillian Fastow may talk with great haste,
But in her well-wishing there's never much waste.

Lenore Feigenbaum has set a new rule,
Each day she wears a new dress to school.

Ruth Finch will argue with you until You're quite sure she has the stronger will.

Bessie Finklestein "lithps" a bit—
Include her bob—that's all to it.

Norma Franzon has tresses long,—
Something she wouldn't sell for a song.

Tessie Frieri too hard doesn't work,
And we think her lessons she may sometimes shirk.

Mary Gabrish has a knack for smiles,
But outside of that she is quite without wiles.

Antoinette Galuska looks business-like
But her smile is the smile of a trusting type.

Rebecca Gandel has curls soft and dark,
We'd like to pull them just for a lark.

Mildred Genna, you are anything but tall,
Why times there are when you're not seen at all.

With a crop of hair fashioned romantic,
Jack Getter is causing our girls to go frantic.

Ruth Goldberg has Medusa-like hair,—
But don't let it give you the least little scare.

Vivienne Goldin—her blushes? Don't fuss!
She's done more PIVOT typing for us—!

Leon Gorczyca has a rather queer name,
But we all like him just the same.

Miriam Granick is frail, so it seems,
But just one false statement, and her anger
teems.

Max Greenblat is quiet and slow,
But have you ever known his grin to show?

Rose Gross is small and dark, and wise,
And nothing ever escapes her eyes.

Corinne Harris has a haughty air,
But in spite of that she'll surely get there.

Frowns are common with Milt Josephowitz,
Confess to us Mr., what makes you so "ritz"?

Phil Josephowitz, with stature so tall,
Possesses two feet which are none too small.

Helen Katz has a voice rather queer,
But she's too nice for us to criticize here.

Alex Kaufman may be small in height,
But glibly informs us of his hidden might.

John Kanzanjian, bespectacled wise,
Knows very much more than you see in his size.

Lillian Kirsh is a maiden, I hear
Who takes life much too sadly, I fear.

Walter Klem has a look so grim,
That I can't keep my face quite prim.

Harry Koffler has done more than the rest,
To see that this PIVOT would really be
"press-t".

THE PIVOT

Buxom and blithe, tall and gay,
Eleanor Kotches tries any fray.

An all-American is Frankie Krol,
He plays football with all his soul.

Edith Laskey comes from the South,
And so she'll say with her own mouth.

Stephen Lebid is a talkative child,
But no one can really with him be riled.

Anna Lehrer's hair is red,
Every strand like a gold-spun thread.

Minna Levin is plump and sweet,
And her music is surely one grand treat.

From Alma Levinson I've never heard,
What might be construed as a really loud word.

Harry Lewis a philosopher fluent,
Has never been known to play the truant.

Clara Liloia, a true naturalist,
Says "The pets I very often assist."

Helen Lomachinsky is rather cool,
But maybe that's only her role in school.

Gottfried Ludke looks quite strong,—
But if you want a blush—string 'im along.

Gertrude Lurie is far from quiet,
But you'll never find her in a riot.

Lena Mancuso has a face so fair,
It may be the answer to some boy's prayer.

A smart young lass is Miss Jane Mandy,
In taking minutes she certainly's handy.

Marcantuone (I can't rhyme the rest)
Is obscurely quiet and has little zest.

Irving Marsh has height enough
To teach him better than to bluff.

Matteo Melito has an artist's soul
Good luck, Matteo! may you fill the role.

Sylvia Mezibov has beauty so rare
Of which she most certainly takes the best care.

Ludmilla Millan, after royalty named
Is for her fairness very well famed.

Leo Minder one scarcely ever sees,
Tho' success for him each one decrees.

There's Sylvia Naas, small and petite,
No matter what comes she's up on her feet.

Oscar Neiss is quiet, it's true,
But he's one who always knows what to do.

Jennie Nowosielska is one fine little girly.
Jennie, don't you ever wish your hair was kinda curly?

Michael Ordyck dimples, it's true—
But, gee! won't we ever get a peep out of you?

Helen Papailiou is dark and still,
See her noisy? You never will!

Rose Peckler is one with hair so curly,
Who hates when strangers address her as
"girly".

Lucille Petrone is quiet and small,
And so are many of the rest of us all.

There's Mildred Plotkin, a dark-eyed beauty,
It's no rare experience to call her "cutie".

Nice and good natured is our Mary Podhorany;
Her cheerfulness will clear many days that are rainy.

THE PIVOT

Dora Pollock has a sterling ring—
Can anything balk her? Not a thing.

And "Fritzi" Posner of fame well-known
Is reaping the harvest which she has sown.

Stanley Posnanski of gymnastic fame,—
In annals of Central will long rest his name.

Stella Pryll ne'er has the blues,
She'll probably fill a chorus girl's shoes.

Jennie Ricca with "dips" so prominent—
A playful little smile is your feature predominant.

Sidney Roller's one smart boy,
I wonder if he's his mother's joy.

Ruth Rothbard, who always studies so hard,
Deserves her reward when she gets her card.

Florence Rothman! There's a name,
Whose owner will always play the game.

Mildred Rotondi is charming of voice,
(And in this compliment she has no choice.)

If you don't know Beth Rottinger, listen and learn,
When ill-fortune cometh, she does all a good turn.

Milton Rubin is wiry and tall;
He's a pretty fair scholar—and that's about all.

Annette Ruscito is one tiny friend,
But to her gaiety there is no end.

Mitzi Sazer impresses as flashing;
At social functions she's sure to look dashing.

A budding Caruso we have here with us—
It's only Jack Schindle who causes this fuss.

Morris Schwartz—his smile tells of burdens
quite light,
But in Eco. one can always get him up to recite.

Jennie Sedorowicz, soft-spoken and slow,
When it comes to working you're on the go.

Blanche Senft is somewhat far from "classy"—
Her chief claim to fame is in being called
"sassy".

Bessie Shenkel is sweet and petite
And we'll say Bessie is a treat.

Anna Schwedsky is just now quite blue.
Won't you find her a better half? (Can't you guess who?)

Lillian Small is as small as can be,—
She can get away when she wants to flee.

Lillian Sodowich, we must say,
Carries her grace in a pretty way.

Joseph Solnin, why are you so small?
Sometimes one can hardly see you at all.

Alice Sousikian's small, it is true,
But tell us one thing that she cannot do.

Edythe R. Steinberg has very dark eyes,—
We think she uses them to read the skies.

Edward Stonack is blond and small,
His lessons he never misses at all.

Ira Szalkiewicz is tall and gaunt,
But his voice is surely one that will haunt.

Frieda Tischler has gloom on her mind,
Gosh! her life must be one awful grind.

Nelda Vitiello is joyous and free,
And that's what she's always going to be.

THE PIVOT

The Honor Roll? Pearl Waxman? The two
are one
Don't you ever wonder how it's done?

As a bouncer Hal Weinberg is one bunch of fun,
And we surely appreciate all that he's done.

Pauline Weinberg is one, I confess,
Whose gaiety sweeps and does not depress.

Edna Weinstein like an actress recites
But on hall duty you should see how she fights.

Leo Weinstein is modest and shy,
His class work he manages just to get by.

Sam Weinstein is one I cannot vouch for,
And I really can't think of another rhyme more!

Mildred Westman is quiet and nice,
And her homework does in just a trice.

As a president Aaron Wissotsky is fine
And for that office he's next in line.

Mae Zaker rather gabs a bit,
And we don't give her any credit for it.

SENIOR STATISTICS

A most active senior is Fritzie Posner. Out of 39 clubs Fritzi belongs to 41.

Dora Pollack is someone to look up to. Out of 4,059,611 times she has never come late. (In spite of that Miss Gordon is not retiring.)

Alex Kaufman, a most chatty boy, has talked at least 116 of the seniors deaf, dumb, and blind.
Probably on the way to win an endurance contest.

After being tardy 18 times Gertrude Bobrow gets a late slip on the day her home room teacher is absent.

Jean Epstein practices 2,000 times a day, a new type and species of laugh now being perfected.

There are only two girls who have resisted Dave Mann's magnetic appeal during his sojourn at Central.

A smart boy is Sidney Roller. He received 8 A's out of a possible 6 on his card. Sidney should confide in some of these distracted seniors.

Possessing 9 books altogether Edythe Steinberg may be seen carrying home 8, of which 10 are probably perused during the night.

Our tallest senior is Phil Josephowitz. Already on the better side of 6½ feet, Phil is still going strong.
He says his ambition is to reach 9 feet 7¼ inches.
When asked why his only answer is that "She likes them tall!"

Out of 1,526 haircuts Bessie Finklestein has taken 1,720 windblowns. Confesses that they are much healthier and of course, more sanitary.

Dorothy Black has taken advantage of an old jaw-exerciser. Over 2,365 sticks of gum are distributed weekly by Dorothy to her adherents. They may all be seen working in chorus in room 317, the 5th period.

DID YOU REALLY THINK SO?

I clung to him confidently. His strong, muscular arm encircled my waist and held me up as we waltzed and glided about. One of my hands lay upon his broad shoulder, the other rested in his, and from time to time, he squeezed it and smiled. I smiled back at him. We knew!

We knew everybody was watching us, but we didn't care! We were young and happy! Youth never cares; does it? We danced and danced gazing into each other's eyes.

Then the bell clanged and the fight was over . . .

We, the graduating members of the class of February 1931, pronounced sound of mind and body, the same being self-pronounced, in both cases, hereby, forthwith, and notwithstanding, declare, decide, and state our intentions to will, give and donate our assets and liabilities to the school at large—to wit:

ARTICLE I

1. Our best thanks to Mr. Wiener for his kind and efficient care.
2. Our sincere good wishes to the faculty.
3. All the fortitude in the world to Miss Martin to continue her supervision of the senior A's to come.
4. Our heartfelt gratitude for the assistance of Miss Ward and Miss Siegler.
5. Our sincerest thanks, best wishes, and heartfelt gratitude to those hardworking people known as faculty advisers.

ARTICLE II

1. A well-broken-in set of lockers (speak up, boys!)
2. The tacks used to hold up the "No 4A O. K.'s Today" sign on Miss Martin's door.
3. The term chase after ads, for 4A's only. No more to be said "de hoc."
4. The consolation that if we were able to leave, after a long, strenuous, and arduous struggle, with or without honors, you can do likewise.
5. The efficient and speedy elevator service for faculty and girls—fellows, don't try it! It's fatal.

6. A few, well preserved specimens of "genus studentus" for Mr. Goldsmith's lab.

7. The serenading strains from the organ at the exact psycholological moment when absolute concentration has been obtained.

8. Excuses and detained slips to the coming G. O. President to give to his associates.

9. Our empty pockets, emptied by the organ collection, etc., etc.

10. The feeling of triumph when you hear the bell, and your home room teacher is a veritable dragon, when it comes to being late.

We hereby and herewith appoint, designate, and forcibly and forcefully name as executors and trustees of our will, testament, and last voice while in this realm of unconsciousness, the innocent freshmen, the sophisticated sophomores, the urbane juniors, and most forlorn remaining seniors, much to our joy and their regret.

And to cap it all we hereby set our hands and seals in proof that the above is obvious and authentic—if not original.

A SAD SAD STORY

Slowly, stealthily, almost fearfully, she slipped out the pasteboard, turned it over, and glanced hastily and guiltily at it, then turning in her seat she looked about to see if anyone had noticed her. Intense concentration on the contents of the slip now quite openly displayed, and her occasional shifting of other pasteboards, containing different inscriptions, gave her the appearance of one of the Fates at the shuttle of life. Shaking her head this madonna of the pasteboards muttered, "It will not do, it can never be!", then with another hidden glance at the rest of the room which was empty save for a small group of conversing men and women in the further corner, she flushed, and slipped another pasteboard from one of the several groups before her and peered exultantly at the face which she had turned up, the better to see it.

From the farther corner came a peal of laughter, malicious, contemptible laughter! She had been detected, they had seen her cheating and all was lost; she would have to start another game of solitaire and concede this one lost.

DEPARTING GIRL ATHLETES

The girl athletes who are leaving us this term are: Ruth Anderson, Selma Farber, Fritzie Posner, and Beth Rottinger.

Ruth Anderson has been a very active girl in medical gym. She earned several chevrons and last term got a blue chevron, the highest award after a letter. We will surely miss such a cheerful little pal. Loads of luck to you, Ruth.

Selma has excelled in basketball. Last basketball season she played side center of the winning team, the Juniors. She also played on the varsity team when the Central varsity played the alumni girls. We will certainly miss you in basketball, Selma.

Look who's next on the list, none other than our little square shooter, Fritzie Posner. You will have to agree with me that Fritzie's popularity was due partly to her great athletic abilities. Fritzie has done a lot for us in the line of sports. She played basketball last season and made the varsity team. She helped organize a girls' swimming team of which she is a worthy and capable leader. Oh! yes! and we mustn't forget what a wonderful cheer-leader she has been. I think that she was responsible for some of the Central boys getting so much school spirit all of a sudden. Fritzie has earned her letter and is working for a second one. Rumors are that Fritzie intends to take up physical education at Panzer this fall. We wish you all the luck in the world. Go to it, Fritzie, and show Panzer what good products Miss Kaufman sends up.

Last but not least is Beth Rottinger. Beth has been very active in athletics. She has earned chevrons and has always been willing to offer a helping hand.

DEPARTING BOY ATHLETES

Frank Krol, our football captain, of 1930 proved himself on both the football field and the diamond. Frank first reported for football in 1928. Here he showed promise of developing into a great back, for in 1929 he became a member of the varsity team. In 1930 Krol was elected captain of the team. The same year he tried his fortune in baseball. In this sport, he became one of the team's dependent hitters.

Central will lose a star gymnast through graduation. He is none other than Alex Kaufman. Alex made his debut in 1930. In 1931, he improved a great deal and made the varsity team.

In the fall of 1929, Seymour Liebowitz became a candidate for basketball honors. After spending most of the first and second years without success, he finally hit his stride. In 1931, he was appointed a varsity basketball man.

Stanley Poznanski made his debut in sports in 1927, when he became a member of the gym team. Contrary to custom, he won a varsity berth his first year. In 1929 he became the city champion on the flying rings. In 1930, he was elected captain of the team. In 1930, Stan tried to satisfy his ambition in baseball and football. He spent most of his time on the diamond and field in learning the fundamentals of both games.

FOOTBALL

Throughout the past gridiron season, Central conquered and was conquered. Central opened its season with a bang. After a snappy tussle, the game resulted in a 19-0 victory over Belleville. Credit for the touchdowns went to Napparano and Kachell.

The following week we met Irvington and outplayed and outclassed them; but due to frequent penalties, the game resulted in a scoreless tie. It was in this game that our star pivot man, Privot, was hurt on the first play and the team had to do the best they could with an inexperienced man at a very important post. In our next game, we bowed to Ridgefield Park, 13-0. The following week's play ended in another scoreless tie with Nutley. Central played its first city league game on the following Saturday with West Side and ran roughshod over them, crushing them, 37-0. Every man in the backfield made at least one touchdown. In their next scrimmage, a re-adjusted Central eleven defeated Barringer by a score of 7-0. A double pass, Krol to Napparano to Taback netted the winning touchdown. This victory placed Central in a good position for the City championship. But the following week, our team was defeated by South Side on a soggy field by a score of 8-0. This game brought about a triple tie for the city championship. Our next game was a very easy one for the team. They defeated East Side to a 19-0 tune. Then the Thanksgiving game, Kearny. But of course you all remember that. Central showed its generosity by playing Barringer in a post season game for the benefit of the unemployed. This game was a very tragic one for Central because Barringer won by the score of 7-6. Captain Krol made the only touchdown for Central.

There weren't many changes in the line during the season but the final shift found Bolden and Taback in the wingmen's berths, Wereschyk and Jordan at the tackle position, Harris and Bateman playing guard and Stadler as pivot man. In the back field, Captain Krol called the signals, Gainous and Napparano were posted as half-backs, and Kachell filled the full-back's shoes.

THE SWIMMING CLUB

Each Monday finds a certain ambitious group of swimmers and would-be swimmers trooping gaily on their way to enjoy a refreshing plunge in the Morris Ave. Pool. Rain or shine, cold or warm, it matters not, they get their swim!

This group is the result of an unsuccessful attempt at a swimming club which disbanded and joined the G. A. A. and then branched off and formed a separate club under the auspices of the Girls Athletic Association.

The girls have been conducting this swimming class entirely under their own leadership. They are led by their officers, namely: President, Fritzie Posner, Vice President, Agnes "Jiggy" Jigerian; Secretary, Goldie Kiel; Treasurer, Florence Stevenson. These officers not only carry out their regular duties, but are the instructors of the class as well.

This class is not expensive, costing five cents every Monday with your own bathing cap. The suits are obtained at the pool.

Regular non-swimming classes are held under the instruction of Mrs. Smith of the Morris Pool and Fritzie Posner, president. Those who swim in deep water conduct classes in diving and in advance stroke instruction. The girls will soon begin work on life saving.

Centralites, this club is for you! Join now, and swim, girls, swim! -

For further information see Miss Beusman, faculty adviser.

G. A. A.

Under the leadership of Miss Kaufman, the Girls Athletic Association tops them all! There are a great many clubs in school connected with athletics, but the largest and most active is this one.

The qualifications for membership are:

1. A non-failing record in gym
2. Participation in outside activities—dancing, basketball, etc.
3. Membership in the G. O.

Those who are interested should see Miss Kaufman and get application blanks, as new members are voted in twice a year (September and March).

The G. A. A. has been active in providing the girls with chevrons as an incentive in class work in gym. These chevrons are awards for exceptionally good work. In order to receive one of these, the girls must have a record of no absences, no excuses, and an active part in both classwork and outside activities. Athletic "C's" are won through these chevrons. They must win three blues in one year. It is not as difficult as it may sound because it has been done by the offgoing girls: "Fritzie" Posner, "Jiggy" Jigerian, "Peggy" Hartnagel, Iva "Peg" Bruzzechesi, who are all active members of the G. A. A.

The girls have given many socials. The meetings are always enjoyed, especially those at which refreshments are served. Most interesting of all are the initiation meetings at which time revenge is sweet.

The club keeps a scrap book to which the members contribute pictures and articles.

They swim, dance, and skate.

They do so much that other clubs will have to work hard to keep up with them!

THE DANCING CLASS

The special dancing class under the leadership of Miss Kaufman and the accompaniment of Mrs. M. McCurdy at the piano, gave an informal exhibition in the gym on December 18, 1930. The exhibition consisted of rhythmic as taught by Mr. Loges in Hanover, Germany.

Among the honored guests were Mr. Panzer of Panzer College of Physical Education, who introduced this very work into America, Mr. Wiener, Mr. Schneider, Mr. Sargent, Miss Maynard, Miss Beusman, Mr. Warden and other members of the physical education department of Newark.

The members of the G. A. A. were also invited to attend.

The girls did beautiful work and are to be congratulated. But the one who really deserves felicitations is the one who taught them. It is the first time that any thing of this kind has been done in the high schools of Newark.

THE CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM

That grand and noble sport, Cross-Country, had a very successful record during the season of 1930. With a group of veterans, Coach Bauer was able to round out an excellent team.

The Blue and White harriers tasted the first blood of the season, when they trounced the West Siders by a perfect score, 37-18. In this race, Captain D'Alessio finished first and Jackson followed him. Misura did well for West Side.

Then we beat the East Side harriers 34-23. Captain D'Alessio and Jackson again proved our mainstay.

The following week, the Central harriers lined up for the City Meet with the greatest determination. The final results showed that Central had won the meet with our Captain leading the field at the finishing line.

The next meet was the State meet. Although the favorites to win, somehow or other, the team finished in second place. Our one consolation was the running of Captain D'Alessio and Jackson, who finished the race first and second respectively.

Coach Bauer entered our team in the Steven's meet and to our surprise we finished in second place.

The season was closed with the National Cross Country Meet, and we took fifth and sixth place.

Much credit is due to Coach Bauer for the successful record of 1930. We must also remember Hughes, Siclaris, Rezimenewski, Romeser and Blair, who have earned their letters in this sport.

Good luck to the Harrier team of 1931 and its Coach.
